

Level 4 Child and Adolescent Mental Health Coach Trainer Person Specification

Dandelion Training and Development is a mental health training provider in England. Our vision is to change the attitudes to child and adolescent mental health provision, through advancing standards of mental health education and improving outcomes for children.

Through normalising recognising the importance of authentic and trusting professional relationships in children's lives and modelling effective behaviours in response to mental health, we aspire to have a Level 4 Child and Adolescent Mental Health Coach in all schools.

To offer children access to confident, competent children's coaches with an exceptional knowledge of children's development and a toolbox of effective strategies to support them.
